PARISH COLLECTIONS:

Last Week's Collection: Amount: £1,170.00. Your generosity is much appreciated.

It was announced at the late Fr Cargan's month's mind on Friday 20th of May that his sister, Maggie Mullan, and her husband, Donal, had undertaken to bear the entire cost of the recently installed statue of St Anne with her daughter Our Lady in St Anne's Oratory. As many of you will be aware, the cost of the statue had, in fact, already been met entirely by the generous donations of parishioners. Maggie and Donal had made the suggestion that a plaque dedicated to the memory of Fr Cargan be placed near the statue in view of the fact that he had chosen to mark the 40th anniversary of the dedication of St Anne's by commissioning it, and that his death followed so soon after it had arrived; indeed it was this latter enterprise that they had offered to fund. They offer this explanation on account of their grave concern at the possibility that the announcement made on Friday 20th would mean that the generosity of those who were so eager to contribute towards the cost of the statue would not be properly acknowledged and they express their sincere regret that this situation arose in the first place.
